

TEXAS TECH UNIVERSITY®
Higher Education Teaching Site at Fredericksburg

A close-up photograph of several bunches of ripe, dark purple grapes. The grapes are clustered together and have a natural bloom. Green grape leaves are visible at the bottom and sides of the bunches.

grapesandwine.ttu.edu

Pursue a career in the wine industry with Texas Tech University in Fredericksburg.

With state-of-the-art facilities, wine labs and teaching vineyard, we offer students outstanding hands-on learning experiences through three education options.

TEXAS VITICULTURE CERTIFICATE. A two-year non-academic program designed for wine industry entrepreneurs and prospective vineyard managers.

TEXAS WINEMAKING CERTIFICATE. A two-year non-academic program designed for wine industry entrepreneurs, winemakers, cellar workers, and prospective winery employees.

VITICULTURE & ENOLOGY SPECIALIZATION. Texas Tech offers the only four-year undergraduate program in Texas focused on the science and technology of grape and wine production. Major in Plant & Soil Science with a specialization in Viticulture & Enology.

For more information visit
grapesandwine.ttu.edu